Description

An exceptionally rare circular billiards or snooker scorer by Cox & Yeman of London circa 1870.
Made from Douglas fir with an enamelled dial and a brass bound glazed front.
This unique scorer was commissioned by Cox & Yeman and made by Julius Sax of London.
There are two hands one indicated with a SPOT while the other is PLAIN, each players scorer is marked by simply turning the dedicated ebony and inlaid ivory handles at the base of the clock ,which in turn moves the hands.
This scorer has a diameter of 23" or 58.5cm, I have placed a cue stand beside it in one of the images to show its scale.
