Description

A superb Country House brass framed Billiard or Snooker table lamp circa 1910, undoubtedly influenced by the designs of Edward Lutyens, the lamp retains a beautiful brass patina. Three upright shaped columns are joined to a central square section via cast knuckles and fitted with decorative cast brass bosses, embellished with a gadrooned fig and handsome square ends. Together with six spun conical shades mounted with brace bars and rims, fixed via square shaped chain, we believe the material to be original.
