Description

A rare solid oak full size billiard or snooker table of refectory or Jacobean form by the "original" Burroughes and Watts of London.

The cushion friezes are fitted with ebony and fretwork patrae, the legs are mounted with decorative raised panels.

Exceptional build quality, solid English oak is used throughout

Made circa 1910 the table features a stretcher system which connects the legs along the length and width of the table.

Fitted with Steel vacuum cushions for optimum ball response. The table we have in stock is the illustrated "Rigidus frame" model.
